The Youths Club of the Society of Russians [ ] requires the following acknowledgments of allegiance and purpose from its members:

25X1

- a. We acknowledge our allegiance to the Central Committee of the Communist Party, the Council of Ministers of the USSR, and to the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet (and shall effect this responsibility) by greater unity in our ranks and by increased vigilance.
- b. We must give all our strength for the benefit of the Motherland even though we reside abroad; everyone personally should think of ways and means to accomplish this.
- c. We will do our best to attract Soviet young people to the Youths Club.
- d. We, the members of the Youths Club, without exception, should know the Stalin Constitution.
- e. We should conduct ourselves in a manner worthy of Soviet citizens, both in and away from the Club.
- f. Special knowledge should be acquired, particularly technical knowledge, as in the USSR. A minimum of technical knowledge, according to Comrade Stalin, is necessary and shall be studied in the Middle School.
- g. We, members of the Youths Club, without exception, must attain perfect knowledge of the Russian language; if necessary, courses will be organized for this.
- h. Criticism and self-criticism will be one of our main weapons and will insure our movement forward.
